

When you are thinking of the internet providers, think of the people who can not afford fancy, expensive money hungry people who control the communications links to the providers.

I pay to use my telephone and should be free to use it any way I want to. I am not in prison where I have to obey one person